Conference on Internalisation of Commerce and Management Education

International Conference

Prof. Bharati Upadhye
Incharge BBA/BBA(IB)

On Internationalisation of Commerce and Management Education :

Commerce and Management are the cornerstones of the establishment of any country. The evolution of commerce and management is a necessity today, in the 21st century especially, when industries and economies are experiencing major irregularities and rapid changes. Where some countries are boasting of exponential growth, others are at the precipice of deterioration. Therefore, exchange of idea and forward thought is a crucial instrument in salvaging economic hindrance, facilitating international relations, and encouraging overall development. The key to growth, as expressed by several scholars, is knowledge. By attaining constructive knowledge, in the medium of our structured educational system, we can further impart and elucidate upon the importance of internationalisation of commerce, specifically the need for its education.

For this purpose, BMCC, on the 29th and 30th of January, 2018 held an International Conference on the theme, Internationalisation of Commerce and Management Education with its sub themes adhering to similar concepts, such as:

- E-Governance and E-commerce
- Recent trends, Issues and Challenges in Management Education
- Innovation and excellence in internationalization for the university in Commerce and Management
- National policies for the internationalization of higher education in India
- Understanding role of Digital Consumer & Globalization
- Artificial Intelligence Business Ethics, and Business Education
- ICT for business & Governance
- Corporate Social Responsibility and Business Education
- Finance and Investment including Foreign Direct Investment in Education
- Leadership Performance and Management Development
- Human Resource Management
- Knowledge Management

Each paper was evaluated by at least two independent peers for technical merit and content.

A team of volunteers worked closely with me and coordinator, Mrs Sapna Deo. They played a large role in the scheduling, pooling, coordinating between the participants, handling all dignitaries, guests, judges, acted as a channel of communication between other team heads and the administration. BCA student volunteers provided in and out technical support to us, routing and formatting articles for the journal. They handled the bulk of email traffic and documentation that followed, through and through. The design team designed, posters, backdrops, the the Wall of Maps etc.

The 29th of January came upon us rather quicker than we anticipated. Though most of the work was done, the actual days' proceedings gave the organising committee jitters, as eminent speakers were to grace the stage.

The program started at eleven am, with a full hall, Cyrus Poonawala Hall - post registrations at the front desk, and start it did, with a welcome speech from our Principal Sir, Dr. C. N. Rawal, who elucidated the importance of such a conference, and what hosting it has meant for BMCC. He went on to felicitate our esteemed panel of speakers, and inaugurated the journal for papers.

Our keynote speaker for the day, Dr. Harold Beschoner, Chancellor of the FOM University, Germany, then gave his speech about 'The Internationalisation of Commerce and Management education.' allowing us an insight into the education system in his country, how awareness must be created for the facilitation of Commerce and management education, all across the world, and no student must be deprived of the privilege and right that is education.

Shri Anirudha Deshpande was the Chief Guest for the opening session. He expressed his views on the current scenario in education and the need for its internationalisation. The speeches were met with rousing applause from students and audiences, alike. Next, Mr. Aditya Abhyankar, DEAN, Faculty of Technology, enthralled everyone with his thoughts on "ICT for business and governance" highlighting the growing impact of technology and commerce, as complementary fields. An invigorating Q/A followed.

Dr. Vinayakrao Govilkar Sir was splendid and uninhibited in his critical comments about the nations educational policies, guiding the audience through an intricate web of the factors behind the economic downfall in the country, and how educational mobility can help conquer these issues in his speech on, "National policies for the internationalization of higher education in India."

A lunch break was soon announced, as the afternoon session concluded. We resumed in an hour for the paper presentation. Day 1 concluded with the promise of an exciting Day 2.

Day 2 brought with it more speakers and more viewpoints on given topic. We commenced with Principal Sir's remarks, followed by a crisp conclusion of the first day.

Dr. Ashok Joshi, Founder Director INDSEARCH, Pune, the first speaker of the day, spoke about "Leadership performance and Management development", which was nothing but the perfect start to the day, as he voiced the concerns regarding management education and its hidden challenges, making for an interesting Q/A.

This was followed by Mr. Milind Date Sir CMA, who spoke about "Innovation and excellence in internationalization of Commerce and management" and how students must focus on community building and Co-curricular balanced with academics to become well rounded individual. He spoke about the scope and nature of education in commerce, its future and what he hopes it will be. Mr. Romkant Pandey, (Vice President Computer Assoc National Federation, Nepal) was the Chief guest for the day, who spoke about Challenges and opportunities of Internationalisation of Commerce and management education. He offered a perspective different from what we believed, quoting professors and authors around the globe, who supported this mission. He narrated personal stories about teaching, and imprinted upon us the need for education as a parting thought.

Post lunch, the second round of presentation commenced, and was judged by our esteemed panel of excellencies. 30 Research Papers were presented by faculties, students etc. Winners were announced at the end of the program in the Valedictory Function, with each receiving a certificate and prize. Principal Sir closed the show, with closing remarks and a vote of thanks.

Introduction and Concept

International conference on multidisciplinary research in sustainable development (ICMRSD) invited academics, researchers, policymakers, stakeholders and students to come together, reviewed their research findings, exchange ideas, and discussed emerging issues. Participants presented Multi-disciplinary research and learned the current trends in a truly international atmosphere at the International Conference On Multidisciplinary Research in Sustainable Development (ICMRSD). The theme of the conference was "Sustainability Development Towards better tomorrow". We accepted abstracts of the research papers on Accounting System, Commerce, Business, Marketing, Economics, Social Sciences and Humanities, Social Health, etc...

We invited to send original research abstracts, case studies formatted according to the given format. All research papers were evaluated by international recognized scholars in a double-blind reviewing process and research papers were selected according to the international research standard.

All the accepted research papers/abstracts will be eligible to be presented at the conference and published in UGC approved journals.

Objectives of Conference

- To make a comparative analysis of various issues in global trade, mobility, educational reforms and sustainability goals
- To explore changes in global trade practices as a driver of economic progress in developed and developing economies
- To examine the prospects and challenges of new and transformative markets and its implications for economic development in emerging markets
- To evaluate recent trends and progress in sustainability and development from a societal and institutional perspective
- To analyse recent management issues and practices in new and emerging disciplines

aways from ICMRSD-2019 to BMCC

ference and Management students:

Students and research scholars got the exposure of various national and international guests and speakers.

Students also enjoyed the views, remarks and thought provoking discussion given by all the Track chairpersons and keynote speakers.

Some of the student's volunteers also got the opportunity to have one-to-one (face-to-face) interaction with all the Track Chairpersons and keynote speakers of the conference.

Student volunteers also had the opportunity to learn different tools and techniques acquired during the organization of the event.

Faculty:

- Faculty from BMCC (and other participants of SPPU) got the opportunity to exchange their knowledge, thoughts, innovations and research experiences in the broad field of Emerging Economies on the common platform along with the renowned academic experts from India and abroad.
- ICMRSD had a great content because of which all the BMCC faculty utilized and exploited this opportunity to develop an excellent "Connectance Level"(network)with all the guests, paper presenters and delegates of ICMRSD.
- Thought provoking discussion and interaction with Indian and International guests/delegates by BMCC faculty had already sown the seeds which will start sprouting in due course by way of academic and research collaborations, faculty exchange, invited talks, panel discussion
events, etc.
- All the research papers presented by Symbiosis faculty will be published in the International Journal of Innovation and exploring engineering
& Our Heritage journal in due course.

DES & BMCC:

- The conference organized by BMCC has further strengthened the overall image of Deccan education society.
- Conference will help BMCC be recognized and remembered as a leader in the field of Emerging Economies.

Last but not the least, the event organized by BMCC through DES has added value by way of creating a True Symbiotic Relationship among the world's academic fraternity

Deccan Education Society's Brihan Maharashtra College of Commerce, (the Department of English) conducted one day international webinar on the 'NEW EDUCATION POLICY AND INDIAN LANGUAGES, Contribution of Computer Technology To Enrich The Indian Languages Vis A Vis New Education Policy', conducted on 27th Nov.2021.

The major objective of the webinar was to cultivate understanding and awareness related to New Education Policy with special reference to Indian languages through digital platforms.

The webinar started under the guidance of honourable chairman of Deccan Education Society Dr Sharad Kunte sir. Sir was introduced by Dr Deepak Powdel. The webinar was inaugurated by Dr Ashok Thorat Chairman Kunte sir enlightened the audience regarding the educational history of India and the efforts taken by the Government of India for the development of the same. The New education Policy's role becoming the Milestone for the Future Development was elaborated by Dr Kunte sir. He also spoke about civilization and culture and their impact on the environment. The strength of the country is in its civilization. Culture is the essence of development of worship. Natural forces are worshiped in India. Sir explained about the relationships between diversities, languages and the nation's culture. Sir discussed about the importance of introducing the third language to the students in the early years of education. The role of mother tongue shaping the students was also the prime focus of the speech. 80% of the languages have derived from Sanskrit. Thus, the skills like reading, writing and translations, along with development of libraries were the next focused areas of the speech. Sir emphasised everyone's contribution in this development.

Dr Deepak Powdel thanked Chairman Kunte sir.

Dr Seema Purohit, honourable Principal BMCC gave the Presidential address to the conference. The diversity in Indian territory, regarding languages is vast and dialects of languages need special attention. Knowledge based society needs development of languages virtually as well. Madam spoke about the ever-changing technological platforms and their connect with language learning. Purohit madam talked about Aatma Nirbhar Bharat and Information technology advances with the same. New technology apps in local languages are helping the people to connect quickly. The importance of Information access and Multilingual efforts with

Deccan Education Society's

Dr. Sneeta Nirmale Head of the Department gave the overview of the conference. Languages have their own ecosystem and socio-economic role in development. Importance of local languages is increasing with social media use as well. She also narrated the efforts by different personalities like Prof. Murti and other organizations regarding the development of digital contentmentations and recordings and preservation of different languages. The contribution of IGNOU and Bharatvani was the major focused area of the session. The need of rejuvenation of Indian Languages was discussed by her. The session was moderated by Dr. Anand Pawde. He introduced Dr. Ashok Thorat, Founder Director IASE, Pune. He presented a paper on 'Rejuvenation of Indian Languages with Technology'.

Vote Address: Dr. Thorat presented the census data of three different years, 2001, 2011 & 2018. He correlated these figures to the change in technical scenario in India as a result of initiative of central government as well as global economics at global level. He began with linguistics pyramid of India. In 2001, the growth rate of top ten Indian languages was not positive except Hindi which showed slow progress. The data of 2011 showed the stability in growth rate of languages.

Dr. Thorat further revealed the data of 2018 which showed the growth of top ten Indian languages with the help of Technology & government initiatives. The central government is helping to rejuvenate Indian Languages with Digital Technology. At the end of the session Dr. Thorat answered queries from the audience and the session was concluded with the Vote of Thanks presented by Prof. Vijay Darekar. First session was conducted by Seema Nair. She introduced the speaker Dr. Mahesh Kulkarni, Ex Senior Director CDAC Head of Research Labs India. He spoke about Technology and Indian Languages.

Dr. Mahesh Kulkarni gave insights on how technology has influenced Indian Languages, vice versa and future of language. NEP focuses on not just language but culture also. Establishing Indian Institute of translation and interpretation, technology in education will be a major boost in this direction. Dr. Mahesh Kulkarni gave insights on how technology has influenced languages, vice versa and future of language. NEP focuses on not just language but culture also.

Establishing trust in the education and interpretation, technology in education will be a great help in this direction. A beautiful verse was given by Sir, 'Kos Kos Me Vani' 'Teen Kos Me Vani' suggesting that even if technology on the basis, language will still continue to change. Impact of technology on language learning: Sir highlighted on Evolution of technology, technology-based tools facilitating language teaching, Status of Indian language in digital media, Big picture on number of languages, Origin of Brahmi language.

Data input, storage and display are the main components of language technology. Sir mentioned about Internal unicorn values. Sir stressed that not translation but translation creation should be used for script processing. Sir also gave insight into various Initiatives made by Government, state and central.

Second session was conducted by Vijay Salunke. He introduced the eminent speaker Dr Sonal Kulkarni Joshi Professor, Deccan College on 'Nurturing Maharashtrian Dialects with the help of Technology'. Dr Sonal Kulkarni Joshi's Study is conducted through Data Collection Digital Audio Technology, Videography and Photography (Stimulus Kit), Digital Audio Editors And Digital Transcribers. Data Visualisation is through Web applications. Multilingualism as envisaged in NEP 2020 will have mother-tongue as medium of instruction till 5th std. and possibly till 8th. Dialectology - traditional (dialect geography) had postal surveys, questionnaires and dialect atlas.

Linguistic survey of India for the first time was done by sir George Greison, a UK civil servant. A real time example was given of how 'a boy' has different dialects in different regions of Maharashtra. Lastly the website of Survey of Dialects of the Marathi language was shown - which also has pronunciation recorded of different dialects originating from different regions within Maharashtra - the website is still under construction.

Third session was about "110 years of Teaching German in India"
Vidushi Tiwari introduced Dr. Savita Kelkar, Administrator DES, Pune

German is the second most widely spoken language after English. It is also a widely taught foreign language. The language has been influential in fields of philosophy, science, theology, technology and commerce. German lessons in India began first in Pune in DES around 1911 and later on Fergusson College was the only center in Pune that time to offer higher studies in German in India until the end of 2nd world war.

Scientific approach is used to teach a Foreign Languages and the various methods incorporated help to achieve productive results. This emphasizes on developing reading, writing, listening and speaking skills simultaneously. Cultural and regional knowledge is also important while learning Foreign Languages through various modes of teaching and learning. German must be learned for wide range of opportunities in business sector across the global industrial market in the fields of finance, accounting, management, etc.

Fourth session was conducted by Dr Manjusha Gokhale. She introduced the guest Dr Amba Kulkarni, Professor Dept of Sanskrit Studies, university of Hyderabad. She spoke about 'Use of computer in teaching of Sanskrit Language' Sanskrit is the most important and pioneer language which is the base for concepts in Mathematics and Aayurveda. New Education Policy is focusing on the more use of the Sanskrit language from schooling. Panini and other Knowledge streams from India are helping World organisations like NASA in the development.

The Sanskrit path is being innovatively enabling the analysis of language development technology in better learning of Sanskrit. The structure of language with its roots, the prefixes and suffixes become easy to understand. Sanskrit is the effort to make Panini's Grammar simple for the students. Various dictionaries are also linking Sanskrit with international and national languages. The application and analysis with grammatical concepts with vibhaktis are simultaneously covered due to advanced technology. Sanskrit Bharati and IIT Rurki have developed due to technology tools for better teaching and learning process of Sanskrit. E-readers are developed for Tughluq and other scripts. These are extremely helpful for students. The vote of thanks was proposed by Dr. Manusha Gokhale.

Question and answer sessions were handled by Swati Maharoor and Shubhendu Pandit.

The program was concluded with the Vote of Thanks by Dr. Sunita Nirmale. Dr. Ashok Thorat (founder director IASE, Aundh, Pune), Prin. Dr. Harishchandra Nirmale (Life-member of Deccan Education Society & former Principal Willingdon College, Sangli) were designed, created the theme and ideology of the webinar. Dr. Prachee Nirmale (SMCW, Pune), Anika Shinde, Master Onkar (Creative Designer 3DExcite, Dassault Systemes) designed brochure, certificates & advertisement flyer. We are highly obliged to the gracious efforts of all the scholars being outsiders supporting & motivating activities in BMCC in absolute enchantment.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

From 21st to 27th April 2022, BMCC is organizing a Faculty Development Programme titled "Analytics for surviving and thriving in VUCA world" in association with HRDC (Human Resource and Development Centre), SPPU Pune, every day from 9.30 to 4.30 pm.

About the FDP

In the VUCA world of Volatility (a constant change, whether big or small is becoming more unpredictable. As events unfold in completely unexpected ways, it is becoming impossible to determine cause and effect), Uncertainty (difficult to anticipate events or predict how they will unfold; historical forecasts and past experiences are losing their relevance, thereby making things increasingly uncertain.), Complexity (modern world is more complex than ever. Problems and their repercussions are becoming more multi-layered, harder to understand, which makes the decision making difficult.), Ambiguity (Demands have become more contradictory and paradoxical than ever, challenging our personal value systems to the core. In a world where the "what" takes a back seat to the "why?" and the "how?", making decisions requires courage, awareness, and a willingness to make mistakes.), remaining strategically competitive is the language of future. Analytics is one such area helps to get insights of VUCA world.

To remain updated constantly is a permanent feature of knowledge society. As a facilitator of knowledge dissemination teachers must be well equipped in the different aspects of commerce and business including accounts & finance, communications, markets, Human Resource, Operations, IT, business administration and relations,...etc.

All senior college staff members of both grantable and non - grant sections on are asked to attend this FDP as a part of their Career Advancement, which is important and mandatory in the context of Autonomy, NAAC as well as NEP implementations.

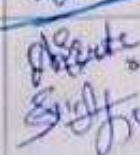

Hence all the teaching faculty members will take the advantage of this certified training programme jointly designed by BMCC in association with HRDC and the experts in the field.
